Q.1 Can a University or non-profit use EPA grant funds to acquire services from another federal government agency?

A.1 The University may use EPA grant funds to acquire services from another federal agency if the agency has statutory authority to provide those services on a cost reimbursement basis. The federal agency will have to advise the University whether it has the requisite statutory authority. Please note that EPA takes the position that services provided to grantees by a federal agency with statutory authority to do so on a cost reimbursement basis are not subject to the competitive procurement requirements of 40 CFR Part 30.
